Mia gets fitted for the devices that will be restraining her upon her arrival. The final adjustments have been made and now it's time to lock her into them. The first has her standing with one leg pulled up and her hands above her head. The next has her in a doggy position, and the final one has her in a back bend on the floor. All of them were designed to expose certain parts of her body so that they're easy to access and torment. All of them had a purpose and all of them served their purpose.
